

MENTAL HEALTH RESOURCES, STRATEGIES & SUPPORT SERVICES:

Coping strategies to consider when times are tough:

- ✓ Create a routine and plan your day around your routine
- ✓ Try to wake up at a decent hour each morning and try not to sleep too late each night. Having a good sleep routine is important for your physical and mental health, and will make coming to school easier when it resumes.

- ✓ Ensure you are eating a good diet and aiming for 30-60 minutes of exercise each day.
- ✓ Do things you have done in the past to help manage challenge and stress; reflect on your own coping strategies and write them down
- ✓ Find ways to relax, spend 10 minutes a day breathing slowly and calmly or trying one of the apps below.
- ✓ Limit exposure to information from social media and the news. Source positive news pages and uplifting news stories instead.
- ✓ Talk with a trusted adult or support person listed below.
- ✓ Scheduling activities that you enjoy can be helpful for maintaining your mood. Circle activities you might like to do or try during this time:

Read a new book or an old book you previously enjoyed	Write a story or journal	Trying to do some drawing or art	Go for a walk	Talk to a friend	Listen to music which makes you feel good	Try an online workout program at home
Go for a run	Watch a movie	Play a board game	Practice your sport skills outside if you have a yard	Learn a new language online	Learn to cook something new	Try and make up a new dance

Free apps that may also help:

Calm Harm

Calm Harm provides tasks that help you resist or manage the urge to self-harm. You can add your own tasks too and it's completely private and password protected.

Clear Fear

The fear of threat, or anxiety, is like a strong gust of wind. It drags you in and makes you want to fight it or run away. Instead, face your fear with the free Clear Fear app and learn to reduce the physical responses to threat as well as changing thoughts and behaviours and releasing emotions.

ReachOut Worry Time

Reach Out WorryTime interrupts repetitive thinking by setting aside your worries until later, so you don't get caught up in them and can get on with your day. This means you can deal with worries once a day, rather than carrying them around with you 24/7

Smiling Mind

Smiling Mind is a meditation app for young people. It has been developed by a team of psychologists and uses mindfulness to boost calmness, contentment and clarity. Mindfulness meditation has been shown to help manage stress, resilience, anxiety, depression and improve general health and wellbeing.

WellMind
